

President's Piece

November! It's ridiculous. The year is flying and so are entries for the myriad end of year competitions and activities. I'd like to warmly invite new and existing members to our fantastic Annual Dinner and Awards Night (see below). It is a terrific chance for us to socialise together and share a meal. Put the date in your diary – Thursday 8 December – and please, please, please considering bringing along your other half. We'd all love to meet your partners-in-crime and perhaps they would like a little window into why you and your camera love to spend so much time together!

Guidelines for Upcoming Competitions

Please note: in all competitions the same image must not be submitted as a projected image and a print.

ANNUAL DPIs (Entries closed) & ANNUAL PRINTS (Entries due 2 November):

- Social Documentary (including title): The image should be concerned with the portrayal and interpretation of society, encompassing both human and non-human subject matter. Social Documentary images MUST BE TITLED, the titles playing an important part in their impact.
- Nature: See our Club handbook at www.qcg.org.au for full details. Nature photography depicts untamed plants or animals in their natural or adaptive habitats, as well as geology, weather and phenomena generally not produced by humans. Not acceptable are human created hybrid plants, cultivated plants, plants growing in controlled conditions (e.g. a hot house), feral, domestic or captive animals, extinct animals, and mounted specimens. Subjects that qualify as landscapes, seascapes or still life do not qualify as nature. Allowable human elements are those that are an integral part of the nature story (such as birds nesting on a man-made structure, and scientific bands, tags or collars). Not permitted is anything that alters the original content by adding, moving or removing image elements such as by cloning, turning day into night, toned monochrome images or infrared images.
- Creative: This is either (a) a photograph which displays a novel effect because of an unusual combination of objects and/or an unusual viewpoint, or (b) a photograph in which the images have been modified during exposure, or (c) a photograph which has been modified after exposure. Always the picture must have a basic photographic image. Digital processes are included, provided the original image was exposed by the entrant.
- Pictorial: Any subject that is treated pictorially, embodying the elements of good design, arrangement or composition, and which reflects the personal interpretation of the photographer.
